McGILL WIN GAME EASILY.

McCulloch, Behan and Fraser all O Figure Prominently in One-Sided Game.

Despite the fact that the crowd had already seen two of the closest games that have been staged in the City League this year, nearly five hundred of the original crowd of seven hundred fans remained to witness the final contest staged between McGill and Nationals. There were two reasons for this, the Nationals have been improving wonderfully of late, and it was looked upon as a crucial test for them. Also, there was more than usual interest owing to the fact that McGill was tied with Loyola for the first position, provided McGill won their game. McGil won easily by the score of three to one, and still shares the top of the pile with Loy-

GERMANY'S MANY SCHEMES

In yesterday's lecture of the "Europe at War" series Dr. Colby treated on The Polish Question. Its close relation to the future of all Europe shows clearly that there can be no permanent peace until the Polish Question is settled according to principles of justice and reason. Poland to be reconstituted it would embrace a population of some 15,000,-000 to 25,000,000, its future depending entirely on the relation of the ag gressive countries of Russia and Prussia, whose position at the end of the war will determine Poland's future.

Dr. Colby set forth the main crises in Polish annals. The Poles and the Slavs inhabited a region thrust well out into the west of Europe, which lacked mountains and physical barriers, but which was graced with the great river Vistula. On this fine stream the early Poles lived for over a thousand years, and here stands out the record of Polish achievement. The late middle ages saw the height of Polish power. Her destruction was deterred by several strong kings, but her state in the end became so unsound that Frederick of Prussia and Catherine of Russia experienced no difficulty in carrying out their scheme of spoilation.

"Both teams make trip to-day to take farmers into camp." The writer then goes on to mention that this trip is "always popular special attractions which undoubted-ly exist for McGill men." Summing up the "attractions," he writes as follows: "Aside from the fine ice and the actions of one of McGill's most justly famous athletic teams."

have an exaggerated idea of our own importance, or that we are very thinskinned, but it would seem to us that it would not have been out of the way to mention that there would be more than one team on the floor, and that an opportunity would also have been afforded to watch a team of "farmers" picked from some sixtyodd students, do their bit to hold up their end against a team that was "nearly the same as that which formed last year's champion five in he senior division of the Provincial League.

It also seems to us that the writer might have stretched a point and mentioned that one of the reasons McGill men enjoyed the trip was that our Athletic Association Executive saw to it that they were invited to have supper here and enjoy the skating afterwards.

The fact that the writer was a litle too optimistic over the chances of McGill's first team may well be excused, for we certainly expected a good trimming, and were pleasantly surprised at the showing our team made. It is to be understood that this criicism applies in no way to the Mc-Gill men who made the trip to Mac. on Saturday. The first team took their defeat like the good sports we've always found them to be; had no excuses to offer, and were free in their praise of Macdonald's game. In view of the fact that they had probably expected to win, and that our victory was perhaps a bit lucky, the behavfour of the McGill men deserves the highest praise. They made it plain, oo, that they appreciated what we lid to give them a pleasant evening, but it is to be hoped that the next man who writes up a prospective trip to Macdonald, will give more evi-dence of a knowledge of the fitness of hings than did the author of the piece in Saturday's Daily.

There are a number of men students at Macdonald who believe that the efforts that the combined faculies of McGill University at Mont real have put forth to bring the Agri-cultural Faculty at Macdonald into closer touch with them, have been in-city, past student of McGill, who was spired by purely selfish motives. ## Cultivating ROSE QUESNEL Native Canadian Tobacco

Tobacco requires a large amount of care throughout its growth. Constant shallow cultivation is practised after the tobacco plants are set out until they have reached a size where further cultivation would damage the leaves and injure the roots. The plant, in its early stages is liable to injury from the attacks of the tobacco-worm and other parasites which commit great devastation in the crops. To prevent the leading stem from running up too quickly to flower and seed, and so starving the leaves, the top is nipped off with the thumb nail, leaving only nine or twelve leaves on each stem. Later on the suckers or shoots which now make their appearance at the junction of the leaves and about the roots of the plants, are removed. Tobacco is also subject to "firing," a kind of blight causing much injury to the crops. The planter must, therefore, protect his crop against all these possible injuries by proper spraying and cultivating.

All of these different operations take time and cost money, but the increased price which the planter receives for his crop warrants the expenditure and care. Nothing but tobacco cultivated as above enters into the making of

LOVELL MURRAY ENTHUSES UPON MISSION SPIRIT

Committee of Students Appoint- R. 3. Angus, Esq. ed for Mission Study.

ENTHUSIASTIC AUDIENCE.

M. G. Brooks Will Give Six Illustrated Informal Talks on India.

A group of students interested in Mission work got together for supper at 6 p.m. yesterday in the Hall. The purpose of the gathering was to consider the best ways and means of promoting a greater interest for Missions among the students of McGill. After the supper the chairman, Mr. J. Coote, introduced Mr. Lovell Murray, of New York. Mr. L. Murray had not been able, on account of illness, to attend the Missionary Institute held at the Hall on January 12th and 13th, but was now able to visit McGill and discuss with this committee of students the outlook for Mission Study for the balance of this year. Mr. Murray is a Canadian by birth and education, and as he himself sup-plemented Mr. Coote's introductory remarks, he is a Canadian by nationality yet. He is now the General Secretary for the Student Volunteer Movement of North America, of which the headquarters are in New York. Mr. Murray commenced his address by speaking of the real values of studying the greater questions in the Kingdom of God. "Instead of referring to abstract theories," the speaker said, I will tell you what I told someone who questioned me the other day, about the good I got out of Mission Study. First of all I got a broader outlook of the Kingdom of God, a true internationalist spirit. We see a lot of narrow nationalism in the different countries to-day, masquerading under patriotism. This thought of the serviceableness of the nations in the constitution of the Kingdom of God is broad. Ignorance about other countries makes us narrow. When we study their history and know their people, then we get a broader outlook. As I study Missions, I become a Christian Internationalist, Second, Mission Study brings me in close touch with the most momentous question of the day, that great sweep of the Kingdom of God. Social progress and development are only part of this great question. As we study Missions we come to see that the great reforms in China, India and Africa have come through missionary effort, through the teaching of the Brotherhood of God. Another great effect of the Mission Study is that it convinces one of the real value of character. To read of such women as Mary Slessor of Calabar, who by her devotion to God and His cause, and by munity of savages to a garden of life. As one lives in thought with such great, heroic, lion-hearted souls while reading of their wonderful career, he gets a real stimulus for character. Mission Study represents ties, and grievous conditions of these countries touches our sympathy, and we begin to think internationally, we can pray of great issues, of other peoples' struggles, and our map ex-2-C. S. McEuen and F. L. Swim, tends beyond our former narrow knowledge. Then, too, by Mission Study we help a man to understand Christ and His true spirit. The stu-6—P. Witzling.

The Royal Military College of Canada

THERE are few national institutions of more value and interest to the country than the Royal Military College of Canada. Notwithstanding this, its object and the work it is accomplishing are not sufficiently understood by the general public.

The College is a Government Institution, designed primarily for the purpose of giving instructions in all branches of military actence to Cadets and Officers of the Canadian Militia. In fact, it corresponds to Woolwich and Sandhurst.

The Commandant and military instructors are all officers on the active list of the Imperial army, lent for the purpose, and there is in addition a complete staff of professers for the civil subjects which form such an important part of the College course. Medical attendance is also provided.

Whilst the College is organized on a strictly military basis the cadets receive a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough ground-a practical and scientific training in subjects essential to a sound modern education.

The course includes a thorough grounding in Mathematics, Civil Engineering, Surveying, Physics, Chemistry, French and English.

The strict discipline maintained at the College is one of the most valuable features of the course, and in addition, the constant practice of gymnastics, drills and outdoor exercises of all kinds, ensures health and excellent physical condition.

Commissions in all branches of the Imperial service and Canadian Permanent Force are offered annually.

The diploma of graduation is considered by the authorities conducting the examination for Dominion Land Surveyor to be equivalent to a university degree, and by the Regulations of the Law Society of Ontario, it obtains the same exemptions as a B.A. degree.

The length of the course is three years in three terms of 3½ months each.

The total cost of the course, including board, uniform, instructional material, and all extrue is about $800.

The annual competitive examination for admission to the college, takes place in May of each year, at the headquarters the several military districts.

For full particulars r zarding this examination and for any other information, application should be made to the secretary of the Militia Council, Ottawa, Ont.

The second half nad just started when Buchanan and Laurie got the puck, with but one defence man in front of them, and Laurie shot the goal. Brown made repeated rushes. The latter scored twice after individual rushes, and things looked bad for the College team, as they had been changing men too often, disorganizing what little combination had been in evidence before. #### Dr. and Mrs. Lynde's "At Home." On Saturday, January 20, part of the Homemakers' Class from the School of Household Science, along with the Seniors and Sophomores from the School of Agriculture, met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Lynde for the purpose of spending a social evening with their host and hostess. The guests were received and were soon made to feel "at home" in every sense of the word. It would be practically impossible to feel any other way, when one has such fair and congenial company as were present that evening. Then, to crown it all, what is more cheerful and home-like than an open hearth, with a wood fire, sparkling and crackling all the while to keep one company. But to return to the subject-as soon as everyone had become acquainted, the frolic commenced, the first game serving still further to break the ice. Each person was given a slip of paper, upon which was written some few lines of some poetry, the men received the last few lines of the verses, while the young ladies had the first lines, and the object was for each to hunt until he had found his or her partner,

Dr. and Mrs. Snell's "At Home."

There have been times within our memory when perhaps have preferred not to visit Dr. Snell's. When? Certainly one of those times was not on Saturday night, January 20th. On that evening, the Senior Science, Class '18, and as we say, the better half of Class '19, slipped across the Campus to the residence of Dr. Snell, with the expectations of spending a pleasant evening. Due to the kind hospitality of our host and hostess, the realization was better than the anticipation.

Dr. and Mrs. Snell, assisted by Miss Portrey, received us in a very cordial manner, and from the first we felt thoroughly at home.
